Welcome to the
Valentine's family

The leading brand
in professional kitchens

In the service of gastronomy

Valentine has been designing and manufacturing professional kitchen appliances since its founding in 1952. Putting Swiss expertise and innovation at the heart of its approach, the Vaud-based company's mission is to excel both in the design of top-of-the-range products and in service, in order to exceed the expectations of customers from all over the world.

By maximising the efficiency of the entire manufacturing process and beyond, Valentine contributes to an unforgettable dining experience, allowing chefs to practise their art at the highest level.

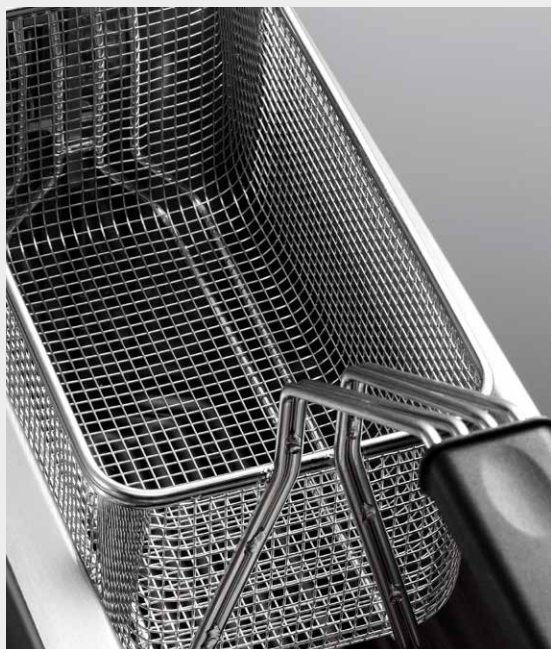

70 Years of unique expertise

The Swiss company was quick to earn a national reputation before expanding its activities beyond the Swiss borders. Although 80% of its products are shipped internationally, the family spirit remains anchored in Valentine's DNA. Remaining true to its roots, the team has forged privileged links with hotel and restaurant professionals on a global scale.

Celebrating the concepts of sharing and family tradition, Valentine continues to expand while remaining focused on excellent customer service and relationships.

At the heart of professional kitchens

As an international benchmark in professional kitchen equipment, Valentine offers a wide range of products, including fryers, pasta cookers and plate warmers.

As market leader, it promotes the values of the Swiss Made brand: precision, quality, reliability and efficiency.

Just like award-winning chefs, the Valentine team is creative in design and at the cutting edge of innovation; providing technically advanced appliances that are perfectly suited to the demands of professional kitchens.

Occupying a new 2800 m2 factory in Romanel-sur-Morges since 2014, Valentine has all the space it needs for its development and is always pleased to offer its customers a warm welcome.
